They say that the people of Nepal, who live in the Himalayas, know the "Secret of the Universe". This is a documentary film of my journey through Nepal in 2016. The purpose of my trip was to meet Geeta, who had been my guide when I first visited the country back in 2005, and to reclaim the special feeling that I experienced then. I had been profoundly moved by the way of life of the Nepalese people and dreamed about revisiting this special place. How can they accept me so warmly: a foreign woman, upon our first meeting?
